REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

Previously, claim 7 was pending. Claims 9 - 16 have been added. Claims 9 - 16 are directed to a method of tuning a drum including at least one tension rod having a terminal end using a drum key. The drum key being used to tune the drum is significant in that it includes a shaft including at least a first opening designed to engage the terminal end of a tension rod and a handle that is connected to the shaft by a unidirectional bearing. The unidirectional bearing is significant in that it constrains the handle to rotate in a first direction of rotation relative to the shaft.
